Dr. Dunn To Be Speaker At Community Service July 4

Dr. Van Bogard Dunn, Dean of Methodist Theological School, Delaware, Ohio, will be the keynote speaker at the County-wide July 4th worship service, sponsored by the Murray-Calloway County Ministerial Association, to be held in the sanctuary of the First Baptist Church on Sunday at seven p.m.

The speaker, a native of Sedalia, son of Rev. and Mrs. Knox G. Dunn, has been dean of the Ohio School since 1959. Prior to going to Ohio, he was a member of the Faculty of Clinic in Preaching at Duke University from 1957-59. He served as pastor of the Kirksey Charge here from 1948-51, was a Teaching Fellow in Duke University School of Arts and Sciences from 1951-54, was pastor of Forest Heights Methodist Church, Jackson, Tenn., from 1954-59 and also taught in the Department of Religion of Lambuth College, Jackson, Tenn.

Dr. Dunn received his A. B. from Murray State University and his B. D. and Ph.D. from Duke University. He received the Distinguished Alumnus Award in 1975 from the Divinity School, Duke University. He is the author of the publication, God With Us, and served with the Army in Europe during World War II.

Married to the former Geraldine Hurt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Hurt of Kirksey, they have four children, Max Gilbert, Susan King, Sheila Mary, and Joan Hamlin.

Special music will be by the Sunshowers Singing Group. W. Rudolph Howard, minister of music of First Baptist Church, will direct the combined community choir in the Fred Warring arrangement of the "Battle Hymn of the Republic," and all choir members are asked to be present that evening at 6:20 p.m. for rehearsal.

Dr. Van Bogard Dunn

Supreme Court Rules In Favor Of Press In Restraint Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court ruled unanimously today that a Nebraska judge's order restricting news coverage of a sensational mass murder case last October was an unconstitutional restraint on freedom of the press.

In an opinion by Chief Justice Warren E. Burger, the court did not rule out the possibility that such orders could be issued in other circumstances to protect the right of a defendant to a fair trial.

But the court said "the barriers to prior restraint remain high" and that those barriers had not been overcome in the Nebraska case.

The decision marked the first time in the court's history that it gave full-scale review to a direct prior restraint on news coverage of a criminal case.

Burger's opinion was confined closely to the facts in the Nebraska case, but he said the decision also "results in part from the problems inherent in meeting the heavy burden of demonstrating, in advance of trial, that without prior restraint a fair trial will be denied."

In another case involving the news media, the court declined to review an order jailing a Los Angeles newsman for refusing to reveal his sources for a story about the Manson murders.

The U.S. Circuit Court in San Francisco had upheld the contempt conviction of William T. Farr, then a reporter for the Los Angeles Herald-Examiner. Farr had written a story about a written statement by a cellmate of Susan Atkins, a follower of Charles Manson, convicted in the slaying of actress Sharon Tate.

In its Nebraska decision, the court focused on a longstanding debate over whether the constitutional guarantee of a fair trial requires restrictions on news coverage to keep publicity from influencing jurors.

At the heart of the debate is what

No Injuries Caused Tuesday By High Winds

A tornado apparently touched down east of Murray Tuesday afternoon, but no injuries were reported.

The twister was reported to have touched down about five miles east of Murray near Highway 280. Damage was limited to several uprooted trees and some damage to barns on several farms.

The largest tree reported uprooted was a post oak on the Guy Lovins property. The tree was believed to be at least 150 years old.

The National Weather Service reported a line of severe thunderstorms moved through western Kentucky late Tuesday, tracking to the northeast. A tornado watch and severe weather warnings for western Kentucky were in effect until 10 p.m. EDT.

The NWS reported severe thunderstorms with strong winds and hail up to an inch in diameter. The weather triggered severe thunderstorm warnings from Calloway County in extreme southwestern Kentucky through the central part of the state to Boone and Kenton counties in northeastern Kentucky near Cincinnati.

Minor wind damage was reported in eastern Calloway County and in the area around Kentucky and Barkley lakes on Tuesday afternoon. An inch of hail was reported on the ground in Fairdeal, Ky., near Benton in Marshall County.

Power failures and tree limb damage was reported across the western portion of the state as the storms moved eastward.

Trees were leveled in eastern Breckinridge County and up to an inch of hail was scattered over north central Kentucky early Tuesday evening.

Late Tuesday, the NWS reported that thunderstorm activity was confined to eastern Kentucky, and forecast additional rainfall in that area today.

Heavy thunderstorms persisted today from the Texas Panhandle into northern Arkansas, the Ohio Valley, the Great Lakes, New England and in scattered areas in the Southeast.

Severe weather continued in northern Arkansas, with funnel clouds and large hail reported overnight.

A frontal system was blamed for the thunderstorms and 17 tornadoes Tuesday. Illinois reported the greatest number of twisters with ten, followed by Ohio with two and one each in Michigan, Indiana, Oklahoma, Tennessee and Colorado. No major damage or injuries were reported, but wind damaged portions of Indiana, Michigan, Tennessee and Mississippi.

Unseasonably hot temperatures returned to Idaho and portions of eastern Washington for the second day in a row Tuesday. Maximum temperatures over the two-state region ranged from the upper 90s in southern Idaho to the mid 90s in northern Idaho and eastern Washington. A cold front moving through Washington kept maximum temperatures in the western half of the state in the mid 60s to mid 70s.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 100 at San Simeon, Calif., to 49 at Olympia Wash.

Warrant Issued

Here For Putnam

A criminal complaint has been lodged in Calloway County Court by Dr. J. R. Ammons, of Murray, in connection with the crash landing of a local airplane in Texas.

County Court authorities said Dr. Ammons has made a complaint charging Max Putnam with unauthorized use of a propelled vehicle. Another warrant has been issued for the arrest of Putnam in connection with the charge.

Putnam is also being sought on a fugitive warrant in connection with the plane crash. The airplane, a twin-engine Cessna registered to Dr. Ammons, was found containing about 1,000 pounds of marijuana in Deaf Smith County, Texas.

Dr. Ammons has said the airplane is owned by two other Murray individuals as well as himself. All three have said they had no knowledge that the airplane was even out of town at the time of the incident.

Mostly Cloudy

Mostly cloudy and cooler through Thursday. Mostly sunny and mild on Friday. Lows tonight in the upper 50s. Highs Thursday in the mid 70s. Winds becoming northwesterly to 10 mph tonight. Chance of rain 20 per cent tonight and 10 per cent Thursday.

RECC To Hold Annual Meeting Saturday, July 10

MAYFIELD, Ky.—The 38th annual members' meeting of the West Kentucky Rural Electric Cooperative will be held on Saturday, July 10 at 3 p.m. at the cooperative's headquarters building, 1218 West Broadway, in Mayfield.

Notices of the annual meeting have been mailed to the cooperative's 24,000 members in Graves, Calloway, Marshall and Carlisle counties.

Three members of the co-op's board of directors whose terms will expire this year were recently nominated for reelection by the Nominating Committee.

They are: Jeffrey Howard and Robert Colley of Graves County, and Coy M. Copeland of Marshall County. Members are permitted to submit further nominations by petition in advance of the annual meeting and/or make nominations from the floor at the meeting.

Dr. Frank Holland, manager of the Land Between the Lakes, will be the guest speaker, and reports will be presented by the cooperative's president and general manager.

Attendance prizes will be awarded at the conclusion of the meeting.

Howard serves as president of the cooperative, which has supplied low-cost TVA electrical power to rural areas of Western Kentucky since 1938. John Collier, Marshall County, is vice president; O. S. Wall, Calloway County, is secretary-treasurer, and John Edd Walker is general manager.

ONE INJURED—One person was injured in this one-car accident Tuesday at six p.m. The driver of the vehicle was identified as Bill VanDeraa, Route One, New Concord, according to Kentucky State Trooper Joe Oakley, who investigated the accident. VanDeraa was treated and released at the Murray-Calloway County Hospital. Oakley said the car was traveling north on Highway 121, just north of New Concord, when it struck a culvert, overturned and landed in a gully.

Rescue Squad Called Twice

Members of the Calloway County Fire-Rescue Unit were called to a tractor-trailer fire on Highway 121 North near Coldwater shortly after midnight last night.

The tractor was reported to be a total loss, with minimal damage to the trailer, which was hauling automobiles. The driver of the car transport truck was Hugh Adams; the owner was listed as Merit Lawson.

A short in the wiring under the dash was evidently the cause of the fire. The booster was used to extinguish the blaze. Eleven men and two units answered the call.

Firemen also extinguished a fire at the home of Carla Young on Highway 94 East earlier Tuesday. The fire started in a back bedroom, with smoke damage to adjoining areas. Five men and two units responded to the call.

Miss Gale Broach of Route 1, Murray will be traveling throughout the state of Kentucky this summer as Miss Kentucky County Fair Queen. She will reign at the Kentucky State Fair at Louisville in August. One of her duties as Miss Kentucky County Fair Queen is to appear in County Fairs all over Kentucky assisting in their local County Fair Pageants.

Miss Broach is a senior social work major at Murray State University, where she was selected as Sweetheart of Sigma Chi Fraternity. She is a graduate of Calloway County High School in the class of 1973.

Miss Broach said she not only was thrilled with the honor of being chosen Miss Kentucky County Fair Queen for 1976, but also is looking forward to being able to tour the state and meet as many people as she can. She said Kentucky has many wonderful places to see, and the people are the greatest on earth.

Gale was the 1973 Calloway County Fair Queen, 1974 Purchase District Fair Queen and 1975 West Kentucky Fair Queen before winning her present title last January in Louisville.

Crowell-Miller Wedding Vows Solemnized At Hendon Home

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Wesley Miller

Miss Kathy Lea Crowell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Crowell of Murray Route Five, became the bride of Bruce Wesley Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Miller, of Murray, on Saturday, May 15.

Hollis Miller, father of the groom, performed the double ring ceremony read at two p.m. at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hendon.

The ceremony took place in the living room of the home. The wedding party stood in front of the fireplace. The mantle was decorated with a large floral arrangement of multicolor daisies, carnations, babies breath and greenery. Ivy was draped across the mantle and silver candle holders were placed on each end. The unity candle was also used in the ceremony.

The register table, centered with a crystal bud vase with daisies and greenery, was covered with a white cloth trimmed with wide lace and placed at the entrance. Miss Amy Miller, cousin of the groom, presided at the register table.

Gary McClure, the pianist, played a number of selections including "My Sweet Lady," "A Time For Us" and the theme from the "Summer of '42." Recordings of "Sunrise, Sunset," and "The Lord Bless You and Keep You" were also played. Mrs. Vickie Ewing, a friend of the bride couple, sang "The First Time Ever I Saw Your Face" and "The Wedding Song." The pianist played the traditional Wedding March.

Bride's Dress

The bride, escorted by her father and given in marriage by her parents, was lovely in her floor length gown made of bridal satin and trimmed in chantilly lace. The dress featured an empire waist line, high neckline, and long sleeves. Appliques of lace trimmed the sleeves and neckline. Her long veil of illusion edged in chantilly lace was attached to a matching lace headpiece.

Her bridal bouquet was made of pastel daisies, pixie carnations, yellow fugi mums with greenery of ivy leaves accented with babies breath and matching ribbons.

Miss Janey Kelso, friend of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a long dress of yellow crepe featuring an empire waistline, high neckline, and long sleeves. She carried a nosegay of multicolor daisies, carnations, and babies breath.

Glenn Leckey served the groom as best man. He was attired in a mint green tuxedo with a matching vest with a white ruffled shirt with matching bow-tie. The groom was attired in a tuxedo of black pants and white coat with ruffled shirt and bow tie. They both wore boutonnieres of white carnations.

Tim Miller, brother of the groom, served as usher and lighted the candles. Mrs. Crowell, mother of the bride, wore a long shirt waist dress of pastel pink. She wore white accessories. The groom's mother, Mrs. Hollis Miller, wore a long two piece dress of pastel blue with contrasting accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of white carnations.

Reception

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the dining room.

The bride's table was covered with a white cloth over yellow caught up at the corners with miniature nosegays. A silver and crystal bud vase holding matching flowers was in the center of the table. At one end of the table was the beautiful three tiered wedding cake trimmed with yellow roses and green leaves. A miniature bride and groom statuette trimmed the top of the cake.

Green punch, nuts and mints were served to the guests by Miss Mary Vaughan, friend of the couple, and Miss Liane Miller, cousin of the groom.

After the reception the couple left for a short wedding trip to Lake Malone Lodge in Dunmore, Kentucky. The bride wore a powder blue pant suit and the groom wore an off white leisure suit.

The newly married couple is now at their apartment in Murray and will continue their studies at Murray State University.

Rehearsal Dinner

On Monday evening, May 10, at seven p.m. the groom's parents entertained the wedding party and family members with a dinner at their home.

Pre-nuptial Events

Pre-nuptial events given in honor of the bride were a bridal shower held at the educational annex of the University Church of Christ. The hostesses were the Mesdames Robert Hendon, Hamp Brooks, Sr., Harry Sled, George Gallagher, Lester Nanne, Cliff Cochran, Wayne Williams, H. M. Scarborough, and Hugh Waldrop.

Also a personal shower was given the bride by Misses Janey Kelso, Mary Vaughan, and Vickie Bailey.

A potluck luncheon was held at the home of Mrs. Jan Hite in Elkton, Kentucky. Miss Crowell was presented with a bedspread and a set of linens.

Your Individual Horoscope

Frances Drake

FOR THURSDAY, JULY 1, 1976
Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

ARIES

(Mar. 21 to Apr. 20)
Some difficulty in communication likely. Be especially careful in what you tell another "confidentially." It could boomerang.

TAURUS

(Apr. 21 to May 21)
Under splendid Venus influences, your imagination is heightened. Give your creative ideas the "full treatment." They should work out well.

GEMINI

(May 22 to June 21)
If you have any doubts or uncertainties about launching a certain project, it would be well to heed. Try to find the underlying reason for your hesitancy.

CANCER

(June 22 to July 23)
A good day for "pulling strings." Persons of influence will be highly amenable should you need their help.

LEO

(July 24 to Aug. 23)
Curb tendencies toward combativeness. You can be your independent self without being arrogant or domineering — and you'll gain more.

VIRGO

(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)
Ride along with propitious influences now. Acquaint yourself with new trends and take measures as occasion demands.

LIBRA

(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)
Some unexpected situations could throw you "off base," cause confusion or misunderstanding. Be alert. Also, avoid impulsiveness in word or action.

SCORPIO

(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)
Fine Mars influences now give you a fresh basis for estimating potentials, in considering long-range programs. DO make the most of them!

SAGITTARIUS

(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)
Routine matters may give most concern. Employ "tried and true" methods in areas where you must act but have little to go on for reference.

CAPRICORN

(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)
Avoid a tendency toward wishful thinking. Realism and objectivity needed in all situations. Optimism, too!

AQUARIUS

(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)
Be sure before you undertake any new venture, but do not doubt your ability to handle one. Just be certain of the facts.

PISCES

(Feb. 20 to Mar. 20)
You will have less opposition in certain areas than you expect. Take the bit by the teeth; put beliefs, intuitive ideas actively to work.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with many assets which, properly used, can lead to a highly successful and satisfying life. Like most Cancerians, you are a true humanitarian and could succeed in such professions as medicine, nursing or sociology. You also could take an active part in institutional work and, having been endowed with a gift for words, could use your writing ability to promote civic, educational or welfare projects. You have a remarkably retentive memory and this, coupled with your affinity for heritage and tradition, would make you an outstanding historian or educator. Travel appeals to you more than it does to many of this zodiacal sector, and may actually lead you into the fields of exploration or archeology. Your musical ability, love of and loyalty to family and friends and your patriotism are outstanding.

Burkeen and Driskill Wedding Plans Given

The wedding plans have been completed for the marriage of Karen Burkeen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Burkeen Murray Route Four, and Allen Driskill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Driskill of Grand Rivers.

The ceremony, to be held Saturday, July 3 at two p.m., will take place in the sanctuary of the South Pleasant Grove United Methodist Church, Murray. Dr. William P. Mullins, Jr., pastor of the South Pleasant Grove Church, and Rev. Hoyt Owens, pastor at the Lebanon United Methodist Church at Paducah, will perform the double ring ceremony.

Music will be provided by Mrs. Olivine Erwin of Murray, organist, and Mrs. Blondine Cook of Murray, soloist. The wedding will be directed by Miss Leola Erwin, the bride-to-be's aunt.

Miss Burkeen has chosen Miss Sarah Cooper of Murray, her cousin, as maid of honor. Mrs. Marilyn Vailes of Memphis, Tenn., her sister, will serve as matron of honor and Miss Rhonda Burkeen of Murray, bride-to-be's sister, as bridesmaid.

Mr. Driskill has chosen his cousin, Dwayne Driskill of Grand Rivers, to serve as his best man. Terry Jackson of Benton and Jeff Cates of Paducah will serve as his groomsmen. The couple has chosen Kenny Erwin of Murray, Miss Burkeen's cousin, and Dale Driskill of Grand Rivers, Mr. Driskill's brother, for the ushers.

All friends and relatives of the couple are cordially invited to attend the ceremony.

Local Persons Appear On FHA State Program

The twenty-second Kentucky Leadership Conference of the Future Homemakers of America was held June 22-24 at the FFA Leadership Training Center, Hardinsburg.

"FHA Leadership Voyage" was the theme of the conference with the primary purpose being to train regional officers. Included in the goals were: Full speed ahead for leadership qualities; hoist aboard new ideas and information; chart a course for state and regional organizations; seed treasures and have fun in every port.

Mrs. Mary Lawson, Murray, Assistant State FHA Advisor, talked about "Passport for Leaders," and Mrs. Janette Chapman, Area Extension Clothing Specialist, University of Kentucky, spoke on the topic, "Stateside Manners."

During the concern sessions on degrees, Mrs. Lucy Lilly, advisor at Murray High School, served as consultant, and Miss Judy Kelso, advisor from Fulton County, served as recorder.

Miss Kelso who is from Lynn Grove also gave a report at the Advisors Session about some of the revisions of the bulletin, "FHA-A Better Way."

Among the 135 representatives and 100 advisors in attendance were Miss Teresa Cunningham, Murray High Chapter, and Tenny Cox from the Fulton County Chapter.

Of Interest To Senior Citizens

Special Events Are Planned For Month

Senior Citizens interested in taking a one day trip to Opryland at Nashville, Tenn., on September 25 and a trip to the Smokies on October 22, 23, 24, should call Ruth Blackwood, at 753-3934 for more information.

Senior Citizens and their guests are welcome to play shuffleboard every Tuesday and Friday evening on the courts at the Ellis Community Center, on Ellis Drive at 6:30 p.m. Shuffleboard can be played every Tuesday and Thursday any time between 10:30 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. Everyone playing is asked to donate a $1.00 per year to help pay for the equipment.

There will be a musical program for Senior Citizens at the Calloway County Library on Tuesday, July 13, at one p.m. For transportation to this program, call 753-0929 by 11:30 a.m.

Due to this special program there will be no activities at the North 2nd Street Community on Wednesday, July 14. Sand Art will be the lesson on Thursday, July 15, at 10:30 a.m. Bring containers for the sand and a container to build a design in. Sand can be purchased at the lesson.

A "Grand Day" will be on Tuesday, July 20. On this day a Senior Citizen can bring a person or persons that is grand to them to the Ellis Center to visit and introduce to friends. The person can be a grandchild, or a grandniece, or nephew, or any person that is "grand" to you. Bring a picture if the "grand" person can not come. This special day will be from 10:30 a.m. to three p.m. Bring a lunch if you plan to stay the day.

A work day in the greenhouse will be at 8:30 a.m. on Tuesday, July 26. There is a need for flower pots or containers at the greenhouse. For transportation to the greenhouse, call 753-0929 on Monday, July 25.

Sensing The News

By ANTHONY HARRIGAN
Executive Vice President
United States Industrial Council

TODAY'S TOPIC: A VIEW OF CONGRESS

For several weeks, headlines have called attention to scandal in the House of Representatives. Speaker Carl Albert, concerned about the public view of the Congress, has appointed a task force to look into the "propriety and appearance of propriety" in the use of House funds. These developments make clear the poor image of the nation's lawmakers.

It's true that politicians outnumber statesmen in both houses of Congress. Fortunately, however, the Congress has leaders who continue to maintain the highest traditions of the Legislative Branch and who are deeply concerned about the quality of the legislative process.

One of these leaders, who qualifies as a true statesman, is U.S. Sen. James L. Buckley of New York. In his new book entitled If Men Were Angels, Sen. Buckley analyzes what is wrong with Congress.

Stephen Utkus, a student at Massachusetts Institute of Technology and currently an intern with the United States Industrial Council Educational Foundation, recently prepared a perceptive review of Sen. Buckley's book. He wrote:

"Increasingly, in Sen. Buckley's view, Congress has lost sight of constitutional limits to the division and delegation of power. Committee assignment and jurisdiction are determined in the interest of power or preference, rather than in the interest of good legislation. The loss of debate has trivialized the role of the deliberative Senate; more often than not, the Senators have little or no understanding on what they are voting. Legislators are no longer legislating; their staffs run the Congress. The staffs decide witnesses for hearings and eventually write most, if not all, of the legislation."

Mr. Utkus observes that "Congressmen's ephemeral occupation with legislation pales by comparison to the assumption of control over every problem, local or national. Buckley sees it as 'an arrogance that assumes that a majority of Congress and the central planners...are better able to establish government priorities'. Moreover, this breakdown of federalism, in his mind, can only be associated with an concomitant breakdown in personal freedom. The very defense of liberty, the division of power between the states and Washington, has been extirpated by Congresses with the aim of substituting the security of their centrally-planned society for America's free one."

Mr. Utkus points out that Sen. Buckley, being a former businessman, has insight into fiscal mismanagement by the Senate. Mr. Utkus notes that what is at stake "is not only fiscal sanity but private property—the economic and political foundation of American freedom."

Our American Heritage

Our American Heritage; Interesting Facts to know about the Declaration of Independence

Composed from notes taken and direct quotations from AN ALMANAC OF LIBERTY by William O. Douglas, The Oxford History of the American People by Morrison, John Adams by Catherine D. Bowen and current articles from magazines.

Submitted by Irma La Follette to stimulate interest in the Bicentennial Community Celebration of all the churches in Calloway County at 7:00 p.m. Sunday, July 4 in the First Baptist Church of Murray Rebellion against government is a serious matter. The Declaration of Independence, proclaiming to the world that the cause of the American rebel was just, sought support of world opinion.

First, it formulated a philosophy of government: all men are created equal; "they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights," including life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness; governments derive "their just powers from the consent of the governed"; whenever a form of government becomes "destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it." Second, the Declaration showed that the condition for rebellion in fact existed the colonies and that the people could endure them no longer. A Catalog of oppressive measures by the King was set forth.

The Declaration's enduring appeal lay in two of its conceptions: first, that revolution can be a righteous cause, that the throwing off of chains by an oppressed people is a noble project; and second, that all men have a common humanity, that there is a oneness in the world which binds all men together.

The Declaration of Independence rests on the basic premise that all men are "endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights." That statement means that the source of these rights of man is God, not government. The Declaration further states "That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men..."

Secure sometimes means to obtain, sometimes to safeguard. As used in the Declaration and in the Preamble to the Constitution it means to safeguard. The American citizens had already obtained them. The Government merely underwrote them.

The distinction between democratic and totalitarian governments lies in this basic difference: in totalitarian forms—fascist, communist, monarchial—the government grants the rights to the people or withdraws them. In a democratic form the rights of man are unalienable. They come from the Creator, not a president, a legislature, or a court.

Funny Funny World

Crime
The cat story is back again. This time from Canberra, Australia. A woman thief snatched a shopping bag from a car in a parking lot here—then fainted after emptying the contents onto the table of a nearby cafe.

Inside the bag was the body of a cat that had been run over minutes earlier by a woman driver, who planned to take it home and bury it.

Police said the woman motorist saw the thief faint and decided not to press charges, believing the shock was punishment enough.

Crime may cost billions of dollars each year, but you've got to admit we are getting plenty for our money.

If your bathtub has been stolen, it might be easier not to report it. When Beulah Robertson, a 45-year-old nurse called the Hollywood police she said, "I want to fill out a report. Somebody stole my bathtub." "Lady," replied Officer Chuck Roberts, I don't have time for jokes." This was no joke. Mrs. Robertson convinced Roberts that somebody had indeed stolen her cast iron white bathtub worth $132 from her back yard. Roberts took the report, but still no bathtub. (L.A. Times)

Bible Thought

He first findeth his own brother Simon, and saith unto him, We have found the Messiah, which is, being interpreted, the Christ. John 1:41

Editorials and opinionated articles on this page are presented for the purpose of providing a forum for the free exchange of differing opinions. Letters to the editor in response to editorials and opinionated articles are encouraged.

The editors of this newspaper strongly believe that to limit opinionated articles to only those which parrot the editorial philosophy of this newspaper would be a disservice to our readers. Therefore we urge readers who do not agree with an editorial stand or the ideas presented by an individual writer in a column, to respond with their feelings on the particular issue being discussed.

Samuel Adams was probably the leading democrat in American public affairs who did the most to prepare the mind of the people for revolution. For twenty years his pen rallied America. As the master strategist, writing under such pen names as Candidus, Layman, Poplicola, Puritan, he attacked weaknesses, exposed officials, prepared the people to defy abusive laws imposed upon them. He also curbed aristocracy tendencies developing among Americans and prepared their minds for democratic homerule. The common people loved him; the Tories declared him their most dangerous opponent.

The seeds of independence sown and assiduously cultivated by such men as Samuel Adams finally bore fruit when the Continental Congress met in April, 1776. John Adams wrote: "By every Post and every day, Independence rolls in on us like a torrent." On June 7, Richard Henry Lee of Virginia introduced a Resolution of Independence.

On June 10, a committee composed of Thomas Jefferson, John Adams, Benjamin Franklin, Roger Sherman, and Robert R. Livingston was appointed to draft a Declaration. They met in a hot, fly infested room over a livery stable and worked until the draft was ready to present June 28. Roger Serman is said to have had the bad habit of picking his teeth in a loud and obnoxious manner which, added to the heat and the buzzing of the flies, so angered Franklin that he threatened to play his harmonica to drown out the noise unless Serman would quit his annoying habit. Thomas Jefferson had been instructed by the Congress to throw up the first draft of the Declaration.

Many alterations were made on this rough draft by the four men assigned to work with Jefferson. The whole Congress debated the Declaration when it was presented to them on June 28. Interesting and beneficial changes were made. Jefferson stated, "I turned to neither book nor pamphlet while writing the Declaration," but according to critics the principles and language of John Locke were so much a part of his mind that unconsciously he thought and wrote like Locke, but improved on him.

On July 2 the Congress adopted a Resolution that "these United Colonies are, and of right, ought to be Free and Independent States" and that "they are absolved from all allegiance to the British Crown." After a few minor changes in language were made the Declaration of Independence was adopted on the evening of July 4, 1776.

On that day in Philadelphia the political climate was turbulent, but at 6:00 a.m. the temperature was 68 degrees Fahrenheit and by 1:00 p.m. it had risen to only 76 degrees, a cool calm day to usher into being such an earth-shaking document. Although twelve colonies did adopt the Declaration on July 4, it was not until July 15 that New York sent her approval. On July 19, the Declaration was ordered engraved on parchment and that copy was signed by those present on August 2 and later during the year by other members. It is that copy we see photographed today as we celebrate the Bicentennial birthday of its adoption. The beauty of its language has lifted the hearts of men and women ever since it was first read to the public from the balcony of Independence Hall on July 8, 1776.

Bunke Bed Injuries

By F.J.L. Blasingame, M.D.

Bunk beds should be considered hazardous.

Such beds are in common use for children where space is a problem—in homes, college dormitories and summer camps.

According to the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission, hospital emergency rooms treated during 1975 an estimated 13,500 bunk bed-related injuries. About one-third of these occurred in children under 5 years of age.

Falls constitute the major kind of injury. The small fry most often roll out of the top bed while sleeping. Playing in bed leads to loss of balance or ignoring the edge, often resulting in a tumble. If two are playing in a top bunk, one youngster may push the other too near the edge so that he falls to the floor.

Falls are often associated with climbing the ladder to get into bed or attempting to get in the upper bunk without the use of the ladder. Other injuries result from striking parts of the bed, such as its sides or metal supports.

Studies show a variety of injuries, but the head and face are most often affected, constituting about 60 per cent. Next, the arms and hands are injured, with trauma to the trunk and lower limbs being less frequent.

The kinds of injuries also vary. Lacerations make up 35 per cent of them. Next come contusions and abrasions, followed by fractures and sprains.

Head and neck injuries are potentially the most serious and include skull fractures, concussions or broken necks.

Family rules are essential in the use of bunk beds. They must not be regarded as playpens. Scuffling in bed should be prohibited. Buy furniture which is well designed and properly constructed. A substantial ladder and guardrail will lessen chances of a fall.

Q. Mr. M. L. has a 55-year-old relative who has "stricture of the esophagus" and wants to know if surgery is necessary to give him relief.

A. The esophagus (gullet) is a tube-like structure which extends from the back of the throat to the stomach, passing through the chest in front of the spine.

Treatment of stricture depends on the cause. Swallowing caustic soda accidentally or to try to commit suicide causes scar formation. It may be relieved by stretching the scar periodically with a special dilator. Sometimes a "valve" is present in the esophagus and can also be satisfactorily dilated.

Hiatus hernia which occurs near where the gullet joins the stomach may cause a narrowing. Most of these can be helped to the year you stop work will be included in your benefit increase, depending on how high the earnings actually were. You should notify Social Security as soon as you start this job so that you are not paid benefits for your months of work, and then notify them again when you stop.

The only other choice you have is to withdraw your claim and refund all benefits you have received. You would then have to file a new claim when you stop work and you would receive your full unreduced benefit if you were 65 or older, since you had refunded all the previous benefits you received. In this case, as above, all your earnings up to the year you retire would also be used to compute your benefit.

Do you have questions about how the Social Security program works? If so, Heartline's "Guide to Social Security" is for you. For your copy of this new 52-page booklet, send $2 and your name and address to Heartline's "Guide to Social Security," Box 4994, Des Moines, Iowa 50306.

Heartline: I am drawing Social Security widow benefits from my first husband's work record. I have met a very nice gentleman who I am hoping will ask me to marry him. If I do remarry, can I continue to receive my Social Security benefits?—R.T.

Answer: If you decide to marry again while drawing Social Security widow's benefits, your benefits would be reduced. The effect on your widow's benefits would depend on your age when you remarry. If you are under 60 (drawing as a disabled widow), you lose your entire benefits. If you are either 60 or 61, you would receive one-half of your widow's benefits.

If you marry again between 62 and 64, you are entitled to an amount equal to the larger of wife's benefits on your new husband or one-half of your widow's benefits. If you are 65 or older, you can receive an amount equal to the larger of one-half of your new husband's Social Security benefit or one-half of your widow's benefits.

with medication but may require operation if pain, bleeding, and narrowing persist. Tumors in the wall of the esophagus or immediately near it usually require surgery. Cancer of the gullet needs to be ruled out in your relative, especially because of his age.

Q. Mrs. P. M. states that her only son, almost 5 years old, is an incessant talker. Sometimes his chatter sounds as if it is at random, just to be talking.

A. His talk is probably a bid for attention and for reassurance. Of course, some children, like adults, are more talkative. Be sure that he knows that you love him and that you listen to him when he has something to say. If you are not already doing so, arrange for him to play at regular intervals with other children his own age.

Billy Miller

Miller Named To Position By Commonwealth

The Commonwealth Life Ins. Co. has announced the promotion of Billy Miller, local agent, to its first associate sales management position in the company's history.

Miller entered the life insurance business in 1971. Since that time he has regularly qualified for various company leaders conventions, the 100 lives club, and the door knocker award.

This year, he has qualified for three national awards presented by the National Association of Life Underwriters. These awards consist of The National Sales Achievement Award, The National Quality Award, and The National Health Award. These awards are presented in recognition of successful sales and service achievement in the public interest in conformance with high standards of qualification by the National Association.

Miller also has recently become a graduate of L.U.T.C., which is a two year course of study in advance underwriting and business insurance.

Miller is a member of various local organizations including the Murray Optimist Club, The West Kentucky Association of Life Underwriters, Temple Hill Masonic Lodge No. 276, and the Calloway County High F.F.A. Alumni Association. He is a graduate of MSU.

He and his wife, Wilma, and their two children attend Flint Baptist Church and they reside on Murray Route Two.

NAMED PRESIDENT — Ruby T. Ivy, Mayfield insurance agent and sales manager, was elected president of the Kentucky State Association of Life insurance for the past 29 years. He has served in all offices of the Western Kentucky Association of Life Underwriters and the State Association before becoming president of the state association.

Foreign News Roundup

PARIS (AP) — Palestinian hijackers holding more than 250 people and a French airliner at Uganda's international airport freed 40 of their hostages today, the French Foreign Ministry announced. But the Israeli government gave no indication whether it would release 40 prisoners to ransom the rest of the captives and the plane. The hijackers freed elderly and ailing persons and children in response to an appeal from Ugandan President Idi Amin. Israeli Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin said the government "considered itself responsible for the safety of every Israeli ... and Israel will act according to this principle." But he said France is responsible for the safety of the passengers.

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The Lebanese Christians and their Syrian backers were reported waging a three-front offensive today against the Palestinian guerrillas and their leftist Lebanese Moslem allies. The Christians announced they have completed their conquest of the Palestinians' Jisr el-Basha refugee camp on the east side of Beirut and launched a "final offensive" against the adjacent and much larger Tal Zaatar camp. The Palestinians charged Syrian troops and tanks attacked the Moslem port of Sidon, 25 miles south of Beirut, after a nightlong barrage of heavy artillery and rocket fire. Both Palestinians and Christians reported Syrian troops, tanks and planes were attacking leftist positions in the string of ski resorts northeast of Beirut that threaten the Christian enclave between Beirut and Tripoli.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Ringing up another in a quickening succession of American vetoes in the United Nations Security Council, the United States has blocked approval of what it called a misguided blueprint for setting up a Palestinian state. The veto cast Tuesday by deputy U.S. representative Albert W. Sherer Jr. ended a council debate held sporadically since June 9 on a report by the special U.N. Palestinian committee. The report called for Israel to withdraw from occupied Arab lands, the phased construction of a Palestinian "entity" in the West Bank and Gaza Strip, and "further arrangements for the full implementation of the inalienable rights of the Palestinian people."

LONDON (AP) — The British employee of an American armored car company wanted for the theft of $4.1 million from Heathrow Airport last weekend was known in the underworld as "the Professor" and had a record of 15 convictions, British newspapers reported today. Scotland Yard kept up its hunt for Stephen Patrick Raymond, 30, and another man wanted for the theft last Saturday of five strongboxes filled with American, British, Lebanese, French, Italian and Norwegian currency. But the Yard believed they had escaped from the country with their haul.

National News Roundup

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — Every available federal judge in the state has been ordered to take part in a hearing today to determine whether New Jersey's schools must shut down Thursday. As the judges convene, the state legislature will be waiting, ready to try one last time to beat the deadline. At issue is a State Supreme Court order to close the schools July 1 unless a new system for financing them is approved by the legislature. On May 13, the state court said the existing method — based on local property taxes — is unfair to schools in poor neighborhoods. The legislature has been unable to meet the court's demand, deadlocking on measures to impose a state income tax and cut property taxes.

LA GRANDE, Ore. (AP) — Ida Hays' plane was an hour and a half late, but 200 people still were waiting when she arrived in her home town wearing a tired smile on her new face. The 15-year-old girl, whose badly deformed features were repaired by 10 hours of complicated surgery last month in New York, seemed to not quite believe the greeting she received in this town of some 10,400 people Tuesday. A police car met her at the city limits and, lights flashing, escorted her to the middle of town. Families stood on the sidewalks and hollered greetings. "I liked it," Ida said of her welcome, but she added, "I was kind of embarrassed." The surgery moved Ida's eyes more than an inch closer together and used bone taken from her hip to mold her face into shape.

HAWTHORNE, Calif. (AP) — Mrs. George Veneris never lost faith that her son, James, a prisoner of war who chose to remain with his Communist captors after the Korean War, would someday return to see her. "It's the biggest thrill in 25 years," she said after learning Tuesday that her son will be allowed to visit his native country. Veneris, who now lives in China, was one of 23 American POWs who stayed with the Communists after the war. He asked to return to the United States for a visit and will be issued a passport, State Department officials said.

'No Excuse Sunday' Attracts Many Persons To Fulton Church

By MANUEL SCHIFFRES
Associated Press Writer
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) —

A lot can be said for the spiritual zeal that leads Americans into churches every Sunday, but don't underestimate the drawing power of steel helmets, TV dinners and a catchy slogan.

The Rev. David Clapp, bothered by slumping attendance at the First Baptist Church of Fulton, Ky., decided on a "No Excuse Sunday" to attract his lax congregants.

Clapp was worried that "something so important as belief in God is sometimes overlooked for the most minor things." His "No Excuse Sunday," as the slogan implies, tried to remove all the obstacles people use to avoid church, and it apparently worked.

Average attendance had been about 400 persons, but about 600 showed up for the first "No Excuse Sunday," and Clapp said that crowds have been above average ever since.

"I've been here a year, and that's the largest crowd I've seen," Clapp said. "It's probably the largest attendance for the last seven or eight years."

Because of the favorable reaction from parishioners, Clapp said he will probably stage another "No Excuse Sunday," and might even make it an annual affair.

Many people, Clapp said, were worried that the roof would collapse if they went to church on Sunday, so on "No Excuse Sunday" the church provided steel helmets.

Those who complained that the church was too cold were given blankets, while some who said it was too hot received portable fans.

Clapp had 200 TV dinners in the vestibule for women who insisted they couldn't pray and cook on the same day.

Other conveniences included eyeprops for those who stayed up too late on Saturday night, and a television set for those who didn't want to miss their favorite program.

Although the special Sunday Insurance money piped to Alaska Life insurance companies are helping provide money to build the trans-Alaska oil pipeline. Life insurance companies and other institutional lenders have committed themselves in principle to buying $1.75 billion in notes to help finance the pipeline, the Institute of Life Insurance reports.

Democrats And Republicans Battling

BY JIM ADAMS
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — House Democrats and Republicans are battling over which party will get credit for responding to the Capitol Hill payroll-sex scandal and allegations of misuse of House travel money.

Democrats devised a series of payroll and expense accounting revisions and implemented them through regulations of the House Administration Committee. Party leaders hoped to get the House Rules Committee today to block consideration of the changes by the full House.

The 145-member House Republican Conference voted Tuesday to try to force amendments to the Democratic revisions if they come before the full House. Some GOP members criticized the Democrats' revisions as a boondoggle and as laying the groundwork for slush funds.

Rep. Charles B. Wiggins, R-Calif., told his GOP colleagues, "I suggest the first thing Republicans should do is pin the problem. This is not our scandal. It is theirs."

The dispute over implementation of the Democratic revisions sparked a rare parliamentary confrontation on the House floor Tuesday.

Rep. Robert Bauman, R-Md., objected to a request by Administration Committee Chairman Frank Thompson Jr., D-N.J., to print the changes in the Congressional Record. Bauman said that according to past practice the revisions could not go into effect until they were published in the record. Democratic Speaker Carl Albert ruled that the revisions already are in effect regardless of whether they are printed.

The Democratic revisions were ordered by the House Democratic Caucus last week after alleged abuses, including charges that former Administration Committee Chairman Wayne Hays, D-Ohio, put Elizabeth Ray on the committee's payroll as his mistress and that nine House members collected travel money to which they were not entitled.

Hays has admitted having a "personal relationship" with Miss Ray, but he says she was hired to do committee work.

The Democratic revisions require all House members to certify monthly each employee's job, salary and relationship to his or her boss.

They also abolish congressmen's ability to draw up to $10,750 in cash a year for travel and stationery.

In addition, they remove the authority of members to save left-over stationery money for their retirements and abolish the $1,140 annual postage allowance.

One change that is a target of GOP criticism consolidates 13 various allowances for congressmen into four accounts.

ART WORKSHOP PARTICIPANTS—Among the participants in a week-long Summer Youth Program Art Workshop held recently at Murray State University are: Tommy Scott (left), a junior at Mayfield High School, and Wynn Tolley (right), a senior at Murray High School. They are receiving instruction in serigraphic printmaking from Melody Weiler, assistant professor of art at Murray State. Scott is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Scott of Mayfield, and Miss Tolley is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Charles Tolley of Murray.

Kingman Blasts 27th Homerun Of Season

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

When Dave Kingman speaks, everyone listens. When he hits, everyone watches.

The New York Mets' strongman commands attention and gets respect everywhere he goes these days, especially from National League pitchers.

"I think I'm back in the groove," says the tall, powerful outfielder. "I'm just picking up the ball good. I think I have a nice, fluid motion now."

That awe-inspiring motion has muscled out the most home runs in the major leagues so far this season, including Tuesday night's two-run blast that carried the streaking Mets to a 2-0 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals. It was Kingman's 27th homer, putting him on a collision course with Hack Wilson's National League record of 56.

In the other National League games, the Philadelphia Phillies beat the Montreal Expos 2-1; the Pittsburgh Pirates whipped the Chicago Cubs 10-1; the Los Angeles Dodgers nipped the Atlanta Braves 2-1; the Houston Astros outscored the San Francisco Giants 4-3 and the Cincinnati Reds routed the San Diego Padres 12-5 in 14 innings.

While Kingman was doing the hitting, Mickey Lolich was doing the pitching as the Mets won their sixth straight game. Lolich pitched a three-hitter to gain his first National League shutout after 39 with the Detroit Tigers in the American League.

Kingman lined the first pitch thrown to him by Pete Falcone in the first inning over the left field fence after Joe Torre had doubled. The ball landed at the 442-foot marker beyond the fence.

Phillies 2, Expos 1

Dick Allen scored from third on a squeeze bunt in the ninth to give Philadelphia its victory over Montreal. Allen led off the ninth with a single and went to third on Jay Johnstone's base hit. After Garry Maddox flied out, Bob Boone laid down a bunt on the first base side and Allen raced home with the winning run.

Pirates 10, Cubs 1

John Candelaria pitched a three-hitter and contributed a two-run triple to an eight-run first inning as Pittsburgh defeated Chicago. Candelaria, 7-4, stopped the Cubs without a hit until Jose Cardenal singled to center with two outs in the sixth inning. The only Chicago run came on Bill Madlock's ninth home run, in the ninth inning.

Dodgers 2, Braves 1

Winning pitcher Tommy John, 5-4, squeezed home the decisive run in the second inning and Elias Sosa provided instant relief in the ninth as Los Angeles edged Atlanta.

Astros 4, Giants 3

Cliff Johnson's two-run triple capped a three-run eighth-inning rally that lifted Houston over San Francisco. All four Astros' runs were unearned, thanks to four errors by the Giants.

Reds 12, Padres 5

Pinch-hitter Mike Lum's leadoff homer in the 14th inning ignited a seven-run rally that gave Cincinnati its victory over San Diego.

Following Lum's blast and a two-run triple by Cesar Geronimo, a solo homer by Dave Concepcion finally put the four-hour game out of reach for the Padres.

Named Director

BEAVER FALLS, Pa. (AP) — Gene Sullivan, who turned Richland High School into a local football powerhouse, has been named director of athletics and head football coach at Geneva College.

As athletic director, he succeeds Cliff Aultman, who has retired after 27 years. Dick Lasse, head football coach the past two years, will remain on the coaching staff.

Sullivan played football at the University of Maryland from 1952 to 1955. In 1956, he began coaching as an assistant at Richland, located about 20 miles from Beaver Falls in Gibsonia.

Two years later, he took over as head coach and lost all nine games in his first season. Since then, his Richland teams have compiled a 92-17 record and won two league titles and seven of nine postseason games.

The Story of Hawk Taylor

Hawk Would Like To Get Into Coaching Baseball Someday

By Mike Brandon

In January of 1973, with the help of Murray State baseball coach Johnny Reagan, Hawk Taylor received an interview for the head coaching job at Lambuth College.

Throughout his professional baseball career, he was away from his family. And so it was with Lambuth... on the weekends when his team wasn't playing, Hawk would make the trip between Murray and Jackson to come home to visit his family.

"I enjoyed everything at Lambuth except the distance between Murray and Jackson. And of course with my family living here, it put quite a strain on my marriage."

In the spring of 1975, after his third season as head baseball coach and physical education instructor, Hawk Taylor resigned.

"I had a very mediocre coaching record but I'm very proud of my '74 team that made it to the conference championships. The fellows were very dedicated and worked hard in improving their baseball skills."

"Something I had a problem with was trying to recruit on a limited budget and wanting to sign the same kind of ballplayers that the larger universities wanted to sign. As a consequence, some of the boys I signed enjoyed playing ball but did not commit themselves entirely to the game."

"I did not like constantly admonishing some of the players to attend class."

In August of 1975, Taylor took a job with the Tennessee Valley Authority in the PSE Program.

"It's a temporary job until I find a permanent job in this area. I like the Murray area very much, especially the lakes area and I hope it is possible to remain here. I've entertained thoughts of getting back into the coaching field, including getting back into pro ball as a coach or a manager. However, my preference would be for someone to offer me a good job in this area."

An avid outdoorsman, Taylor can usually be seen doing such things as tilling his garden, planting shrubs, working in the yard or just looking after things at his house which overlooks Blood River.

"After living out of a suitcase for 15 years, it has certainly been a pleasure living in my home at Panorama Shores. Of course, after being brought up with a gun and fishing rod in my hand, the location at Panorama is ideal for any outdoorsman. In the fall, ducks and geese fly constantly overhead and there is good deer hunting just minutes away and plenty of big bass right in front of the house. In addition, the whole family enjoys water sports."

Hawk and his wife, Marie, have two sons. Bruce is 12 and plays Little League ball while Sam is seven and is in Park League. Of course the Hawk attends their games.

"I'm a little concerned though with the over-emphasis placed on winning at the expense of learning good baseball fundamentals. I believe strongly that competition should be developed more slowly than it is."

"Baseball for youngsters in the 5-10 age group should have more emphasis on fun and participation instead of competition and repetition of skills involved that are already within the young players' capabilities. Individual skills should take precedent over the game plan, which stresses things to do to win ballgames."

"The reason I say this is that the young players' self-esteem is greatly enhanced when he makes a good catch, gets a good hit or otherwise makes a fine play that he, himself, can get recognition from."

Taylor said if he does get some sort of permanent employment in this area, he would like to become more active in local baseball, perhaps even coach the Legion team sometime.

"I will offer my services now to any coach who would like for me to help him out."

"In looking back on my career, I am happy that I was able to spend 15 years of my time involved in something that I loved. Fortunately, nine of those 15 years were spent in the major leagues and I get some sort of a secure feeling knowing that those nine years have made me a vested member of the best pension plans ever developed."

"If I had it to do all over again, I would try to erase all the injuries and try even harder the second time around."

It's been six years now since Hawk Taylor has been on a major league field. He's finally starting to miss all the glamor, and believe it or not, the travel. Plus he misses all the friends he made while playing.

"I'm even planning to attend several games in St. Louis this summer and use my 'Gold Lifetime Pass' for the first time. Maybe the reason I haven't been to games is that it might hurt too much."

TOMORROW: Marie and the Kids.

Failure To Win Medal Has Helped Wolhuter

By DAN BERGER
AP Sports Writer
EUGENE, Ore. (AP) — If Rick Wolhuter had won a medal at the 1972 Olympic Games, he might not have become the dominant force in the 800-meter run that he has been during the past four years.

"If I had won something at Munich, I might not have been as goal-oriented as I am," said the Chicago insurance salesman.

"Your goals determine your motivation frequently, and I guess I can say that what I did in 1972 might have led me to where I am today."

Today he is on the road to the Olympics, hopeful of winning the gold medal in the 800 next month at Montreal, despite — or perhaps because of — his own clumsiness in the Munich Games four years ago.

It was an ordinary 800 quarter-final race on Aug. 31, 1972. Still only 23, Wolhuter was the favorite against such unknown runners as Alain Sans of France and Mansour Guettaya of Tunisia. Wolhuter was supposed to ease into the semifinals.

After all, he had run a fast 1:45.0 behind Dave Wottle's 1:44.3 in the U.S. Trials only weeks earlier. But Wolhuter fell over his own feet.

After 200 meters, he began to cut to the inside, stumbled and went down. "I stayed down on the track too long after falling," he said, but the crowd of 70,000 felt that getting up and trying to catch the departing runners was worth a standing ovation.

Wolhuter's last-gasp dash to place among the top three and advance failed when unknown Azzedine Azzouzi of Algeria held him off for the final spot in the semifinals.

"No, I don't think it's bothered him consciously all these years," said Ted Hayden, coach of Wolhuter's University of Chicago Track Club.

"He's not very emotional about things like that," said Hayden. "In fact, he liked to joke about it. He said the Munich track was very nice for falling on."

Since then, Wolhuter has blossomed into one of the world's greatest runners. For two years he was unbeaten. He set world records of 1:44.1 for 880 yards, and 2:13.9 for 1,000 meters, within six weeks in 1974. He raced a mile in 3:53.3.

He ran away from some of the world's finest runners including Danie Malan of South Africa, Mike Boit of Kenya, and in 1974, he scored consecutive victories at a mile and 1,500 meters over John Walker of New Zealand.

The Olympic 800 appears wide open, even though Wolhuter is one of the favorites.

Boit might be considered to have an edge in pre-race odds. A 6-2, 150-pounder, who is two weeks older than the 27-year-old Wolhuter, Boit has run the second-fastest 800-meters on record, 1:43.79. He also was rated the No. 1 middle distance runner in the world in 1975, the same spot Wolhuter had earned in 1974.

Also expected to be in strong contention at Montreal are the other two U.S. entrants, James Robinson, 20, and Mark Eneart, 22, who halted Wolhuter's two-year winning streak in 1975 by winning the AAU title.

Billie Jean King Has Chance For 20th Title

By HARVEY HUDSON
Associated Press Writer
WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Billie Jean King, a Wimbledon champion of champions, has definite ideas about who is going to succeed her as the women's singles champion.

She doesn't actually come out with a prediction, but Evonne Goolagong Cawley is the first name that Billie Jean mentions.

"Evonne is the one to beat. I've always said that."

Mrs. King won her sixth Wimbledon singles title last year by beating Evonne, then announced she was retiring from singles play.

"Chris Evert is the most totally professional," she says. "Virginia Wade thinks she can win. Martina Navratilova, I don't know. She's fourth on my list."

Miss Evert, of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., the 1974 Wimbledon champion and 1973 runnerup to Mrs. King, meets Miss Navratilova, a Czechoslovakian exile now based in Beverly Hills, Calif., in the semifinals Wednesday. Mrs. Cawley faces Virginia Wade of Britain.

Billie Jean, who has won 19 Wimbledon titles in singles, doubles and mixed doubles, is still alive in the women's doubles that could make a 20th championship.

Elizabeth Ryan of the United States won 19 Wimbledon championships in the period from 1914 to 1934 — 12 women's doubles and 7 mixed doubles — but never the singles.

Mrs. King has won her 19 championships in an 11 year period. She teamed with Betty Stove of Holland Tuesday to defeat Laura du Pont of Charlotte, N.C., and Wendy Turnbull of Australia, 6-3, 6-3, in the women's doubles quarter-finals. But she and Alex Mayer of Wayne, N.J., were eliminated from the mixed doubles by Bob Hewitt and Greer Stevens of South Africa, 9-7, 3-6, 6-2.

The men's singles came down to the semifinals Tuesday with Roscoe Tanner of Lookout Mountain, Tenn., upsetting Jimmy Connors, of Belleville, Ill., the no. 1 seed, 6-4, 6-2, 8-6. Raul Ramirez of Mexico beat Vitas Gerulaitis of New York 4-6, 6-4, 6-2, 6-4. Ilie Nastase of Romania eliminated Charles Pasarell of Santurce, Puerto Rico, 6-4, 6-2, 6-3. Bjorn Borg of Sweden ousted his off-court buddy Guillermo Vilas of Argentina, 6-3, 6-0, 6-2.

There are no former champions left in the men's singles and Tanner is the only surviving American. In the semifinals Thursday, Tanner plays Borg and Ramirez meets Nastase.

Sign Players
CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Bears have signed running back Ron Cule of Oregon State and linebacker Wayne Womack of Utah State to 1976 National Football League contracts.

The Bears announced Tuesday the signing of Cule, 6-1 and 199 pounds, who was second in the Pac-Eight in kickoff returns last season with 23 for 470 yards. He was the Bears' 14th round draft choice.

Womack, a defensive tackle at 6-2 and 240 pounds, will be tried at linebacker by the Bears. Womack was signed as a free agent.

Marninaro Hopes He'll Get To Run With Jets

By HAL BOCK
AP Sports Writer
HEMPSTEAD, N.Y. (AP) — It is a simple axiom of football that for a running back to be effective, he must be allowed to run. Ed Marninaro never quite understood why the rule didn't apply to him.

"I got to the National Football League as a running back," said Marninaro, "but then, I didn't get the opportunity to run."

Marninaro spent his first four NFL seasons in Minnesota, where the offense is spelled Chuck Foreman running and Fran Tarkenton passing. He left that routine behind Tuesday when, after playing out his option with the Vikings last season, he signed a one-year contract with the New York Jets.

He comes to the Jets after his most productive NFL season. Given a regular starting job for the first time, he caught 54 passes for 462 yards as Foreman's backfield partner. But he had only 101 carries for 358 yards. That is about seven attempts per game, not nearly enough for a running back to prove anything.

"To be effective, a running back has to be given the ball," he said. "Unless you establish yourself as a runner, your position in the starting lineup is always threatened. You never have the opportunity to relax as a football player."

Marninaro considers 15 carries per game the kind of diet a running back should be fed.

Marninaro never had to worry about getting the ball at Cornell, where he set an NCAA rushing record by gaining 4,715 yards in 27 varsity games.

"In college, I ran from the I-formation," he said. "In that, you run to an area and find what's there. In the pros, I had to adjust to the split backfield. At first, I was not disciplined enough to run to the hole. In time, though, I learned."

Coach Lou Holtz, delighted with the acquisition of Marninaro after losing free agent running back John Riggins to Washington earlier this month, said the Jets might try the I with Marninaro as the tailback.

Blair's Single Ends No-Hit Bid By Wise

By FRANK BROWN
AP Sports Writer
Rick Wise sat at his locker and listed the factors involved in pitching perfect baseball: "Good stuff ... good control ... good defense ... good concentration," he said.

Pitch by pitch, it became clear to the 30-year-old right-hander that the factors were dropping into place. Inning by inning, with Baltimore batters falling in order, it became clear to the Boston ace the plateau of perfection was within reach.

"I knew I had good stuff from the outset," he said after his one-hit, 2-0 triumph over the Orioles Tuesday night. "I was hitting spot and had them hacking at the ball. I was jamming guys, making them hit the ball up. I just felt I really had it."

Well, he almost did. Paul Blair marred the masterpiece with a sharp, clean single leading off the sixth inning. Only walks to Reggie Jackson and Al Bumbry in the seventh and ninth innings, respectively, proved the faulty brush strokes in what still was a pitching work of art.

"He had it all tonight," said Red Sox Manager Darrell Johnson, who picked up the list where Wise had left off: "Good fastball, breaking pitches, and — just as important — good location."

But the hit was no disappointment to Wise, who pitched a no-hitter for the Philadelphia Phillies in 1971, and hurled one-hitters in 1968 and 1972 and another two weeks ago.

"It was no disappointment losing the no-hitter tonight. If it happens in the eighth or ninth it is a different story. It's great to just throw a one-hit shutout. That's not easy, either."

Rick Wise just makes it seem that way.

In the other American League games Tuesday night, California clipped Chicago 4-1; Oakland blasted Texas 8-3; Kansas City defeated Minnesota 1-0; Detroit downed New York 7-5 and Cleveland beat Milwaukee 4-1.

Run-scoring hits by rookie Steve Dillard and Fred Lynn in the eighth inning supported Wise's third shutout of the campaign. The hurler faced just 28 batters, one over the minimum, and needed just 98 pitches to beat Baltimore.

Angels 4, White Sox 1
Dave Collins hit a two-run homer in the ninth to support "one of the most satisfying wins I ever had," according to Angels left-hander Frank Tanana, who had missed the last two weeks with an arm injury. A run-scoring single by Ron Jackson and a sacrifice fly by Jerry Remy plated the other California runs.

Jim Essian's sacrifice fly scored the Chicago run in the eighth.

A's 8, Rangers 3
Third baseman Sal Bando had a two-run homer and two-run double to lead Oakland's victory over the Rangers. Texas tallies came in the second on run-scoring singles by Jim Sundberg, Gene Clines and Mike Hargrove.

Royals 1, Twins 0
"Fred Patek's 10th-inning sacrifice fly scored Hal McRae from third base with an unearned run to give Kansas City pitcher Al Fitzmorris his ninth victory in 13 decisions. McRae had singled and taken second on a throwing error by Minnesota shortstop Roy Smalley. An infield out moved him to third. The tally ruined a three-hitter by the Twins' Dave Goltz.

Tigers 7, Yankees 5
Home runs by rookie Jason Thompson and Rusty Staub helped bring Detroit to victory from a 4-0 first-inning deficit. The triumph, the Tigers' second in two nights over the AL East leaders, was their eighth in 10 games.

Thurman Munson and Fran Healy drove in two runs each to give New York its 4-0 lead. Chris Chambliss homered in the seventh for a 5-3 Yankee advantage until Detroit scored three in its half of the inning and got insurance on Staub's blast in the eighth.

Indians 4, Brewers 1
Two-run homers by Larvell Blanks and George Hendrick helped Cleveland hand Milwaukee its sixth consecutive loss.

Bulls Must Pay Over Million For Gilmore

By HANK LOWENKRON

AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The Chicago Bulls, coachless and without a general manager, must now decide if they want to spend $1.1 million to obtain the contract of former American Basketball Association star Artis Gilmore.

That's the price tag that went on Gilmore Tuesday when the National Basketball Association announced procedures to handle the drafting of former ABA players whose teams did not join in the NBA as part of the recent merger agreement.

NBA Commissioner Larry O'Brien announced the value of Gilmore and 19 other players declared eligible for the draft, which will be held in July after expansion agreements are signed and a district court gives preliminary approval to the proposed settlement with the ABA and the ABA Players Association.

Gilmore's price represents

Baseball Name

KANSAS CITY (AP) — When John Mayberry and George Brett hit home runs for the Kansas City Royals Sunday they not only earned their baseball pay, they acquired a namesake.

John Brett Spoor was born to Mrs. Carol Spoor of Independence, Mo., in Jackson County Hospital Monday, just one day after she watched the team at Royals Stadium.

"I got hooked on baseball about a month ago and really got excited out there Sunday," Mrs. Spoor said Tuesday night. "When they hit those two home runs—I figured—I would name the baby after them."

Mrs. Spoor and her six-pound boy are fine, hospital officials said.

Evert, Goolagong To Meet In Finals

By HARVEY HUDSON

Associated Press Writer

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Top-seeded Chris Evert of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., defeated Martina Navratilova of Czechoslovakia 6-3, 4-6, 6-4 today to gain the women's singles final of the Wimbledon tennis championships.

On Friday Miss Evert will meet Australia's Evonne Goolagong who overwhelmed Britain's Virginia Wade 6-1, 6-2 in today's earlier semifinal.

Wimbledon was still abuzz with Roscoe Tanner's spectacular performance against Jimmy Connors. Tanner, the left-hander from Lookout Mountain, Tenn., used his booming serve to eliminate Connors, 6-4, 6-2, 8-6 in Tuesday's men's quarter-finals.

Tanner's victory was built on 19 aces as he simply overwhelmed Connors, the 1974 champion and the tournament's top-seed from Belleville, Ill.

Tanner, although elated by his victory didn't think it made him a cinch for the title. "I don't think anybody's the favorite at this stage," he said. "Everybody who's left by the semifinals has to be playing well. Grass is my favorite surface and I've beaten all the guys who are left at one time or another so we'll just have to wait and see."

Meanwhile, Connors' former agent, Bill Riordan, suggested that there are other factors involved in the upset.

Riordan said Connors had been preoccupied with seating arrangements for his mother and his girl friend, the former Miss World, Marjorie Wallace.

"When you are playing tennis at this level, you can't afford to be rushing around after your girls all the time," said Riordan. "He should not have to look after anyone."

"If I was involved, I would have sent Marjorie home. She is obviously a distraction. It is a question of him having to wait on her, she has to have tickets and she is looked after. That is not what his mind should be on."

more than one-third of the $3.08 million value placed on the 20 players. The Bulls can make the decision on whether they want to spend the money for the 7-foot-2 Gilmore since they have the first pick as a reward for compiling the worst record in the NBA last season.

Other draft prices include $500,000 for center-forward Marvin Barnes of the Utah Rockies, $350,000 for center-forward Moses Malone of Utah and $300,000 for center-forward Maurice Lucas of Kentucky.

Kentucky's Louis Dampier, whose 13,726 points made him the league's all-time scoring leader, is available for $20,000. Fred Lewis, an original member of the league as was Dampier, also is available for $20,000.

Each of the 22 teams in the expanded NBA will have a chance to pick, and if every player isn't selected in the first round the drafting will continue for up to three rounds. The value of each player will be reduced by a specified percentage if he isn't picked in the first round.

There is no doubt the Bulls, who have lacked a strong center for some time, could use Gilmore. He averaged 24.6 points per game and led the ABA in rebounding for a fourth consecutive year with a 15.5 average last season.

However, after agreeing to pay the price for Gilmore, the Bulls would be responsible for his contract under the merger agreement. In Gilmore's case it is in six figures for one year. And although there is time remaining before his ABA contract runs out, his agent has let the Bulls know some renegotiating is desired.

In addition, the Bulls have drafted All-American Scott May, the Associated Press College Player of the Year last season, and they will have to pay a big sum for his services.

The final decision on selecting Gilmore probably will rest with Arthur Wirtz, one of the Bulls' principal owners. Wirtz, also owner of the Chicago Black Hawks of the National Hockey League, recently obligated some $3 million for hockey star Bobby Orr.

The decision of Wirtz is one of several he is currently facing. He also has to find a replacement for Dick Motta, who left as head coach and general manager after last season.

Mets Record Win Over Indians In Pony League

In a game which was reported incorrectly in Tuesday's paper, the Mets won 11-10 over the Indians Monday in Pony League play. The contest went eight innings.

After six innings, the teams were tied at seven apiece and neither team was able to break the deadlock in the seventh. But in the top of the eighth, the Indians used run-scoring singles by Nicky Swift and Mark Smith to score three times and go ahead 10-7.

Th Mets bounced back with three in the bottom half of the eighth as Kim Wilson, Bradley Wells and Tim McAlister all had RBI hits.

With two out and the bases loaded, a wild pitch sent home McAlister with the winning run on a close play.

Donnie Thompson took the pitching victory for the Mets.

Two homers were hit in the game. Robert Santagado had a solo shot for the Indians while McAlister blasted a two-run homer for the Mets.

Santagado paced the Indian attack with three hits while Ricky Smith, Mark Smith, and Bill Berlich had two hits apiece. Also hitting safely were Bob Daniel and Swift.

For the Mets, Bradley Wells had the big stick with four hits while McAlister and Thompson each had three. Charlie Wells, Wilson and David Cooper had two hits apiece while Paul Denton also hit safely for the Mets.

Added To Roster

Feller Says Baseball Needs All-Powerful Commissioner

By WILLIAM R. BARNARD

AP Sports Writer

DALLAS (AP) — Bob Feller, whose fastball was once timed at 98.6 miles per hour, says baseball has a fever that could be cured by an all-powerful commissioner paid by both players and owners.

"The situation of baseball right now is a lot like that of the United States on Dec. 8, 1941 — a little messed up," said Feller, who visited Texas last week on a promotion tour.

Feller, voted the greatest living right-handed pitcher during baseball's centennial in 1969, says Commissioner Bowie Kuhn was correct in voiding the sale of three Oakland players.

"Kuhn was just protecting the fans. They buy tickets with the idea their team will compete with a nucleus of players," Feller said. "(Charlie) Finley was trying to cash in before his assets evaporated."

He says a solution to the unrest in baseball would be for the players to pay half of the commissioner's salary and have an equal say with the owners in his hiring and firing.

"The commissioner would have the final say in disputes. You can't take away the legal right to sue but there would have to be a gentleman's agreement to accept the commissioner's decisions."

Forty years ago, in 1936, a decision by another commissioner settled a contract dispute involving the 17-year-old Feller.

Feller, whose fastball was a local legend in Iowa at age 11, had been plucked from the cornfields of Van Meter at age 16 by Cleveland Indian scout Cy Slapnicka.

Facing major league batters for the first time in an exhibition, the teen-aged fireballer struck out eight St. Louis Cardinals in three innings and in his first regular season start he fanned 15 St. Louis Browns.

It was then that the contract was questioned, because the rules at that time dictated that players had to be signed to minor league contracts before they agreed to a major league pact.

The technical tangle, which could have ended Feller's career at Cleveland, was settled by Commissioner Kenesaw Landis in favor of Cleveland after, Feller says, he lied to Landis about his signing.

"They told me to say I was signed first by our Fargo, N.D., minor league team," he says. "That was our story and I don't think he believed us, but I stayed in Cleveland."

The first five years of his career were right out of a storybook — 17 strikeouts in one game at the age of 17, 109 victories by the age of 22, 18 strikeouts in one game at age 19 and an opening day no-hitter in 1940.

Today, Feller is a walking advertisement for baseball. His post as a sports sales representative for a major hotel chain gives him time for old timers' games and appearances at minor league parks and youth clinics.

Balloonist Has Not Been Heard From In Three Days

NEW YORK (AP) — Before he lifted off to try to become the first person to cross the Atlantic Ocean in a balloon, Karl Thomas quietly confided to a small circle of friends, "I may not make it, but I'm not going to die."

That was on Friday, and today marked the third day that he has not signaled from his 90-foot-tall, helium-filled balloon that he is alive and well or downed and drifting somewhere in the North Atlantic.

"We don't know where he is and we've stopped estimating. He might sight Europe tomorrow. He might be becalmed, but we're sure he's out there somewhere," said Nick Grande, a spokesman for the flight's communications crew. Since the weekend, the crew has been holed up in an East Side Manhattan apartment.

"We're waiting," Grande said. "There are five telephones here. If one rings we jump."

Thomas, a 27-year-old pilot from Michigan, was estimated on Tuesday to be more than 1,200 miles east of New York City and approaching the halfway mark of his 3,000-mile flight.

"Everybody is concerned, but we're not worried," said Grande. "We're banking on two things. First, if he were down, someone would pick up his emergency location transmitters. Second, we know the guy. We have faith in his skill and his good sense.

"If we haven't heard from him, then we know he's still up there."

Thomas, according to Grande, is carrying enough warm clothing to withstand bitter high-altitude temperatures. He has food and water, and if downed, his gondola would become a boat.

But the pilot's planned altitude was about 3,500 feet. That's low enough to be within reach of lightning bolts, and for the most part it puts him too close to the sea to make radio contact with passing jetliners.

Thomas was last heard from late Sunday. A commercial jet reported picking up Thomas's call letters on its radio. The signal was faint, but a spokesman for the Alitalia jetliner said the voice, believed to be Thomas', did not sound distressed.

Shortly after Thomas lifted off Friday from Lakehurst, N.J., Naval Air Station, his main communications system was knocked out by a faulty aerial. This too killed his primary tool of navigation, and he was forced to use the stars.

Then, according to his communications crew, he encountered thunderstorms that may have numbed his reserve batteries.

This, they say with hope, is why he has not been broadcasting.

Thomas' bride of eight weeks, Michele, 24, has been with the communications crew in New York, according to Grande, and keeping in touch with flight director Paul Johnson, who is waiting at Lakehurst.

Texans Give Advice To Plains, Ga.

EDITOR'S NOTE — The writer is a native of Macon, Ga., who has survived 16 years in what, he says, is "the largest swamp north of the Okfenokee."

By JULES LOH
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Hey all you fellow Georgians planning to come up here to watch Jimmy Carter, the Pride of Plains, get nominated, here are a few tips from a native son to help ease the culture shock.

You will notice immediately that these people speak with an accent.

They have difficulty with the second person plural, for example, saying "youse" instead of, properly, "you all."

They say pecan wrong. They call dinner lunch and supper dinner — but speak of having dinner parties at supper clubs.

There is no explanation for these provincialisms.

They call breakfast breakfast, but ordering it will be a problem for you. Forget grits, which are unheard of. They eat something called a bagel, which is as hard to describe as it is to chew. Don't send it back, it is supposed to be that hard.

A danish is not an adjective but a sweet roll.

Do not ask for regular coffee or somebody will put milk and sugar in it.

When you name your poison, do not name rye or what you will get is poison. They call blended whisky rye. It is not. Stick to bourbon.

Very few restaurants serve ordinary food such as black-eyed peas, okra, collards, butterbeans, spoon bread. They call this fare "soul food."

The subway is not as fearsome as reputed. Many New Yorkers find it peaceful enough to sleep there.

Do not be afraid, either, to ride in taxicabs. A bullet-proof barrier between the front and back seat now protects passengers from the driver's philosophy and wit.

Bring your own peanuts. A handful at Yankee Stadium costs 40 cents, which ain't peanuts.

Finally, do not tease New Yorkers about their town's going broke. Some are unreconstructed about this, believing that the North shall rise again.

EXPERIMENT SUCCESSFUL

A University of Texas experiment to see how well recycled garbage would stand up as pavement has been successful. An aggregate composed of glass, bottle caps, metal and melted aluminum is holding up well as a conventional highway under heavy traffic, the university reports.

Deaths and Funerals

Murray Man, Bill Lyons, Dies Today At Local Hospital

Bill Lyons died this morning at 10:05 at the Murray-Calloway County Hospital. He was 72 years of age and was a resident of 413 North Fifth Street, Murray, until recently when he moved to Fern Terrace Lodge.

Survivors are two sons, Tommy Lyons, 301 North Eighth Street, Murray, and Robert Lyons, Mr. Vernon, Ill.; two stepdaughters, Mrs. Brona (Evelyn) Vick and Mrs. Ora Lee (Rubie) Elkins, both of Alamo; one sister, Mrs. Shellie Elkins, Alamo; one brother, Lee Lyons, 210 North 13th Street; ten grandchildren; twelve great grandchildren; several nieces and nephew.

Mr. Lyons was preceded in death by another son, James Lyons, on February 14, 1965.

The Max Churchill Funeral Home will be in charge of the arrangements.

Mrs. Crutcher Dies At Hospital; Was Mother, Local Man

Mrs. Addie Laura Crutcher, mother of J. B. Crutcher of Murray Route Six, died Monday at three a.m. at the General Hospital, Tampa, Fla., where she had been living for the past ten months.

The deceased was 93 years of age and a former resident of Stewart County, Tenn.

Survivors are her son, J. B. Crutcher; one daughter, Mrs. Marjorie Jarman, Tampa, Fla.; two sisters, Mrs. Mamie Morgan, St. Helena, Calif., and Mrs. Mattie Morgan, Granite City, Ill.; two brothers, George and Harmon Wallace, both of Macon, Ga.; one granddaughter, Mrs. Kathryn Morris, Tallula, Ill.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at ten a.m. at LeDon Chapel of Ridgeway Morticians, Paris, Tenn., with Bro. Gerald Owen officiating. Burial will be in the Pettit Cemetery in Stewart County, Tenn.

Funeral Thursday At Chapel For Mrs. Wilkerson

Funeral services for Mrs. Leon (BuNell) Wilkerson will be held Thursday at ten a.m. at the chapel of the Max Churchill Funeral Home with Rev. Robert L. Prince and Rev. Jerrell White officiating and Mrs. Oneida White playing the organ.

Serving as pallbearers will be Jim and Cary Hendricks, Joe Prince, Rickey Wheeler, Larry Cook, and Charles K. Miller. Burial will be in the Murray City Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home.

Mrs. Wilkerson, age 59, died Monday at 9:20 p.m. at the Murray-Calloway County Hospital. She was a member of the Memorial Baptist Church and was preceded in death by one daughter, Mrs. Jackie Wilkinson, on February 21, 1974. Born August 26, 1916, in Calloway County, she was the daughter of the late Lucius Erwin and Annie Love Bray Erwin.

Survivors include her husband, Leon, to whom she was married in October 1958; daughter, Mrs. Steve Miller, and son, Joe Allbright, both of Murray; one sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Hendricks, Murray Route Five; four grandchildren.

Preston Evitts Is Dead At Age 56; Rites At Church

The funeral for Preston Evitts of Hazel Route One was held Monday at two p.m. at the Oak Grove Baptist Church where he was a member with Rev. Otis Jones and Rev. Harold Smotherman officiating and the Church Choir providing the music.

Pallbearers were Richard Thompson, Max Duncan, Hildred Paschall, Gerald Paschall, Ellis Wilderson, and James Hester Foster. Burial was in the Oak Grove Cemetery with the Miller Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Evitts, age 56, died Saturday at two a.m. at the Murray-Calloway County Hospital. Born July 1, 1919, he was the son of the late Finas Evitts and Lula Victoria Stevens Evitts. He and his wife, the former Gray Jackson, who survives, were married November 30, 1940.

Survivors are his wife; four daughters, Mrs. Linda Paschall, Puryear, Tenn., Mrs. Janice Keates, Dover, Tenn., Misses Sheila and Teresa Evitts, Hazel Route One; three sons, Jerry, Route One, Palmersville, Tenn., Doris, Puryear, Tenn., and Gary, Hazel Route One; sister, Mrs. Vince Hillard, Paris, Tenn.; seven brothers, Clyde, Murray, James, Texas, Prentice, Joe, Cecil, David, and Raymond, all of Paducah; eight grandchildren.

Rev. David L. Haley will be the evangelist for the revival services to be held at the Olive United Methodist Church July 5 to 10 with services at 7:30 each evening. Wayne Johnson is song leader. Rev. Haley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben K. Haley of Hardin, is associate minister of the Trinity United Methodist Church, Memphis, Tenn., and just recently received his Master Divinity Degree from Trinity Evangelical Divinity Seminary, Deerfield, Ill.

Ira North, preacher for the Madison, Tennessee, Church of Christ, will be the guest speaker for a ONE NIGHT REVIVAL at the Seventh and Poplar Church of Christ Friday night, July 2. The service is scheduled to begin at 7:30.

North is probably best known in this area as the teacher of the "Amazing Grace Bible Class" which is seen and heard on television and radio throughout the United States and in several

World Didn't End For Grannis, Ark., Group; Vigil Maintained

GRANNIS, Ark. (AP) — The world didn't end Tuesday, but a spokesman for the 24 persons awaiting its demise says the group still has faith in their mission.

"Everything is in the hands of God, we know He will provide," said Elizabeth Nance Bard. "We are not worried, we are just as sure as ever that He will come. We just know it."

She had said Monday the end of the world could occur the following day because that was the nine-month anniversary of the beginning of the vigil to await the Second Coming of Christ. "From conception to birth is nine months," she noted.

The group also faces an earthly problem, a possible eviction from the house on which Mrs. Bard's brother, Gene Nance, lost legal possession when he stopped paying on a $15,000 loan at the vigil's beginning.

The U.S. attorney's office in Fort Smith has filed court action to have the vigil members evicted by federal marshals, by force if necessary. U.S. Atty. Robert Johnson says both U.S. District Court judges in the western district of Arkansas are out of town until next week, so the eviction order can't be signed.

Mrs. Bard has said she almost hopes the marshals will hurry up and come. "We know God won't let them break us up," she said. "So when they (the marshals) come, maybe that will be the time."

Bill Could Add Tax To Cigarettes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Walter "Dee" Huddleston, D-Ky., says a proposed amendment to a tax bill now being considered by the Senate could result in massive taxes on cigarettes.

Huddleston said the amendment would replace the current eight cents per pack federal tax with a graduated tax based on the tar and nicotine content of individual brands.

Huddleston said the tax "would destroy an industry that provides basic livelihood of thousands of small farmers throughout the country."

"In my judgement, the question has not been resolved regarding the relationship of cigarette smoking and disease," Huddleston said Friday. "Several reputable scientists say the medical evidence available at this time is wholly inconclusive."

He said tobacco-state senators are marshalling forces to seek defeat of the proposed amendment.

Youth Chior Will Present Musical At Puryear Church

The Bicentennial Musical, "I Love America" by Don Wyrzten and John Peterson, will be presented Sunday, July 4, at seven p.m. by the Youth Choir of the Puryear Baptist Church, Puryear, Tenn., under the direction of Mrs. Glenda Gallimore.

The musical awakens pride in our national heritage, demonstrates growth based on solid accomplishments of the past, and encourages deeper commitment to God who has been stirring deep spiritual currents in our nation over these first two hundred years, Mrs. Gallimore said.

The director said "patriotism, praise, and prayer are the triple ingredients of the musical which was written with each family member in mind."

The public is invited to attend, a church spokesman said.

A year-long survey of whales, porpoises, seals, sea lions and marine birds in waters off Southern California is under way by a team of University of California marine scientists.

The purpose is "to help the Bureau of Land Management regulate use of the coast's natural resources, including offshore oil drilling."

Gov. Carroll Has 60 Days To Select Appeals Court Judges

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Gov. Julian Carroll has 60 days in which to select 14 new judges for the new Kentucky Court of Appeals.

The names of 42 attorneys were submitted to the governor Tuesday by the Judicial Nominating Commission. Carroll's office indicated that the court would probably not be chosen before the end of July.

In the meantime, Secretary of the Cabinet Jackson White will personally interview each nominee who asks to be interviewed. White will also consider comments in writing from professional organizations, groups or individuals.

The nominating commission considered more than 80 applications for the vacant judgeships.

The new intermediate court was created under the Judicial Article approved by the voters last November.

The members of the former Court of Appeals stepped up to the bench of the new state Supreme Court.

Kentucky Supreme Court Chief Justice Scott Reed, chairman of the nominating commission, said the matter was now "out of the commission's hands." He had said a target date of July 1 for the operation of the new court but acknowledged that would be delayed until the governor makes his selection.

Reed said it was important both to "be as careful as possible and as expeditious as possible" in the selection of the new judges.

Reed said he hoped the nominations would enable the governor to select an appellate court "staffed by judges who will inspire confidence and afford the people thorough, impartial, expeditious disposition of cases."

The 1976 Kentucky General Assembly set salaries of the new judges at $37,000 with the chief judge to be paid $37,500. He will be elected by the other judges.

All the judges appointed by the governor must seek election in the November ballot for an eight-year term.

The nominees are as follows:

—1st Supreme Court District: James W. Howerton, Paducah; Earl T. Osborne, Paducah; Roy N. Vance Jr., Paducah; George S. Boone, Elton; Laurence T. Gordon, Madisonville and Warren B. Miller, Dixon.

—2nd District: William M. Gant, Owensboro; Robert G. Hunt, Henderson; William L. Wiesman, Owensboro and George B. Boston, Charles H. Reynolds and Gordon L. Johnson, all of Bowling Green.

—3rd District: B. Robert Stivers, London; Boyd F. Taylor, London; John D. White, Manchester; Morris R. Butler, Greensburg; Robert L. Dowell, Edmonton and Walter Patrick of Lawrenceburg.

—4th District: Edward L. Clark, Joseph H. Eckert, Herman E. Frick, Boyce F. Martin Jr., Henry A. Triplett and Marshall B. Woodson Jr., all of Louisville.

—5th District: Kenneth A. Howe Jr., Frankfort; James Park Jr., Lexington; David C. Short, Frankfort; Henry V. Pennington II, Danville; Edward F. Prichard Jr., Versailles and Anthony M. Wilhoit, Versailles.

—6th District: William O. Bertelsman, Newport; Charles Bruce Lester, Newport; Douglas M. Stephens, Covington; Bernard B. Davis, Shelbyville; Robert F. Greene, Burlington and Donald C. Winterseimer, Covington.

—7th District: Cleon Kilmer Combs, Pikeville; Elijah M. Hoge, Morehead; Henry R. Wilhoit Jr., Grayson; Harris S. Howard, Prestonsburg; Clarence A. Noble Jr., Hazard and William J. Baird Sr., Pikeville.

Court Ruling...

balance should be struck between the Sixth Amendment, guaranteeing a person facing criminal charges "a speedy and public trial by an impartial jury," and the First Amendment, prohibiting any abridgement of the freedom of the press.

The fair trial-free press debate has been building since 1966, when the Supreme Court reversed the conviction of Dr. Sam Sheppard for the murder of his wife. The court said the Cleveland osteopath had not been adequately protected from "the inherently prejudicial publicity which saturated the community."

The debate has been sharpened since by several so-called gag orders in which judges have restricted news coverage before and during trials. Five orders containing such restrictions were issued the year after the Sheppard decision.

Last year, there were 62. Attorney E. Barrett Prettyman, representing news organizations in arguments before the Supreme Court in April, said he knew of 11 such orders in the previous six months alone.

Since then, news restrictions have been ordered and subsequently lifted in singer Connie Francis' lawsuit against a New York motel in which she was raped and entertainer Claudine Longet's manslaughter trial in the Aspen, Colo., killing of her lover, skier Vladimir "Spider" Sabich.

Today's decision marks the Supreme Court's first full-scale review of a direct prior restraint on news coverage of a criminal case.

'Top' Program To Take Aim At Reducing Traffic Deaths

By SY RAMSEY
FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — In a slightly different approach to reducing holiday traffic accidents and violations, Kentucky State Police will be putting extra troopers on duty the rest of this year, particularly during holiday periods. The object is to focus on the interstate areas and determine if the additional men are able to cut down on the dreary holiday statistics.

Supervision Course Set

A two-week course in industrial supervision will be offered at Murray State University during the evenings July 19-30. To meet Monday through Friday from 6 to 9 p.m., the course sponsored by the Department of Engineering and Industrial Technology will include supervisory training in improving communication skills and listening skills and in developing behavioral objectives, good human relations, and problem solving techniques.

Murray State University, Murray, Ky., 42071, (502) 762-3393. Since the course is open to a limited number of students, anyone who is interested is urged to register as soon as possible by sending the registration fee, along with name, Social Security number, address, telephone number (home and office), and the name of the course to the following address: Center for Continuing Education, Sparks Hall, Murray State University, Murray, Ky., 42071.

Insurance jobs triple since '45

The number of persons employed in insurance firms in this country has nearly tripled since the end of World War II. In 1945 some 600,000 were employed, compared to an estimated 1,620,000 in 1974, the Institute of Life Insurance says.

as "TOP" which stands for Troopers On Patrol. It will home in on Interstates 75 and 65, the north-south arteries through Kentucky, along with secondary highways connecting them.

Col. James Mayes said Monday the project will begin with the July 4th weekend and end on the New Year's weekend. He said comparisons would be made on the traffic toll with similar six-month periods during the past four years.

Mayes said the money will provide 11,579 additional trooper hours for the specified areas plus 62 additional radar sets. "Our object on the interstates will be to get the 55-mile-an-hour speed limit enforced," he said. "On the secondary roads, it will be a little different because there are more accidents and fatalities."

tasks." The interstates have the most violations on the speed limit, and when the connecting roads are included, the I-65 and I-75 areas also have a huge segment of fatalities.

The figures show 188 persons dead in 1972, 208 in 1973, 147 in 1974 and 145 last year. "We think the TOP program will make quite an impact," Mayes said. The counties affected along I-65 are Jefferson, Bullitt, Hardin, LaRue, Hart, Edmonson, Barren, Warren and Simpson. Along I-75 they are Kenton, Boone, Grant, Scott, Fayette, Madison, Rockcastle, Laurel and Whitley.

Fate Of Mercenaries In Hand Of Angolan President

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN
AP Special Correspondent
LUANDA, Angola (AP) — The fate of four British and American mercenaries sentenced to be shot now lies with Angolan President Agostinho Neto.

Daniel Gearhart, 34, of Kensington, Md., and Costas Georgiu, Andrew McKenzie and John Derek Barker of Britain were sentenced Monday to face a firing squad for their actions in the Angolan civil war.

There were two other American defendants: Gustavo Grillo of Jersey City, N.J., who was sentenced to 30 years in prison, and Gary Acker, 21, of Sacramento, Calif., who got 16 years.

Seven other Britons were given prison sentences ranging from 16 to 30 years. Neto must confirm the death sentences before they can be carried out. British lawyers here for the trial said they would appeal for clemency for all four.

Robert Cesner, the Columbus, Ohio, lawyer who defended Acker and Gearhart, said he would continue to work on the case until Acker "reaches Sacramento and Gearhart is home again with his family in Kensington, Md." Grillo refused his help.

The U.S. government, which vetoed Angola's application for membership in the United Nations last Thursday, called Gearhart's death sentence "unwarranted by the facts as we understand them."

"We do not believe the death sentence is justified under international law," said a State Department spokesman. But he refused to say what Washington could or would do about it.

The five-judge tribunal's verdict accused the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency of financing the recruiting of mercenaries in the United States. It also said the Federal Bureau of Investigation "had precise knowledge of this traffic in war prostitutes and did nothing to disturb it."

The 13 mercenaries were fighting for the Western-backed National Front, or FNLA, when they were captured by Cuban troops fighting with the victorious Soviet-backed Popular Movement, or MPLA.

Only Georgiu, a British Cypriot who used the alias Col. Tony Callan, and McKenzie were accused directly of murder during the trial. All 13 were charged generally with plundering, blowing up bridges, sacking, raping and "unwarranted killing."

Georgiu was also accused of having 14 other British mercenaries shot when they refused to fight against advancing Cuban troops and tanks.

"I was shocked and I'm just counting on the fact that they will review it and not carry out the sentences," said Gearhart's wife, Sheila, at the Maryland home where she lives with their four children.

In Sacramento, Acker's father, Carl Acker, said he and his wife were "happy to hear that our son's life is to be spared, but we're deeply concerned and upset that others are not to be."

Many Wallace Supporters Lean Toward Carter, Anti-Buser Says

By BILL HENDRICK
Associated Press Writer
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) —

Many former supporters of Alabama Gov. George Wallace will vote for Democrat Jimmy Carter in the presidential election if their choice is between the former Georgia governor and President Ford, says the leader of Louisville's largest antibusing organization.

The reason — said Jack Shore, president of Union Labor Against Busing — is that Ford is "running scared" and using the busing issue to gain votes.

But if the President is successful in limiting the power of federal judges to impose school busing before the general election in November, the antibusing bloc — at least in Louisville — will vote for Ford, Shore predicted.

Shore, whose group claims 140,000 members, was cynical about Ford's proposal Thursday to limit the power of federal judges, characterizing it as political rhetoric — nothing more.

He said Ford's proposal to Congress "could be a step in the right direction" but that the timing of the announcement made him conclude it was "just politics."

Ford's proposal would put a five-year limit on any desegregation orders requiring busing. Atty. Gen. Edward H. Levi said the proposed legislation would not affect school districts that already have court mandated busing, except that the five-year limitation would go into effect for them when the bill becomes law.

Shore, like many antibusing leaders, backed Wallace until the Alabama governor called it quits for the 1976 presidential campaign. And Shore has said — as have others in the antibusing movement here — that he would rather see Ronald Reagan as the Republican nominee instead of Ford because Reagan and Wallace are close philosophically.

But if the presidential contest boils down to a battle between Ford and Carter, "the majority of us would go with Jimmy Carter," Shore said.

Meanwhile, an attorney for the Jefferson County Board of Education, which is appealing a desegregation order that required massive busing in Louisville, said he was reserving judgement on Ford's proposal until he has a chance to study it.

"I want to know if there's a clause in it saying 'nothing contained herein will diminish the powers of the court.' If it says that, it is nothing but political talk," said the attorney, John Fulton.

"Any legislation which proposes to diminish the power of the federal courts to enforce the 14th Amendment is going to be unconstitutional," Fulton said.

Busing has been an issue in this Ohio River city since last year, when a federal judge ordered the school system desegregated under a plan that required more than 22,000 pupils to be bused.

HOW'S THAT AGAIN?
The majority of the 15 million Americans characterized as hard of hearing are over 65 years of age and another 20 per cent are of school age, says a government report.

Kent Forrester, Murray, entertains visitors at his exhibit with music from his recorder at the seventh annual Arts and Crafts Festival in Land Between The Lakes, TVA's 170,000-acre public demonstration area in western Kentucky and Tennessee, June 26-27. The festival, sponsored by TVA and the Murray Art Guild, was held near Center Furnace in the Environmental Education Center with more than 30,000 people attending. Exhibits included leather pieces, pottery, photography and art displays, macrame, handcrafted jewelry, handwork, and live entertainment throughout the two-day show. More than 250 exhibitors displayed their work.

EKU Professor

Files Suit Over

Denial Of Tenure

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Dr. Robert K. Landrum has filed suit against Eastern Kentucky University for denying him tenure when his contract expires next year.

The business administration professor charged in the suit, filed in U.S. District Court here Friday, that university President Dr. Robert R. Martin and the school's board of regents broke an agreement with him that tenure would be granted.

Landrum contends his tenure was denied because of his political activities, including an unsuccessful 1974 Democratic nomination campaign for the 6th District congressional seat held by Rep. John Breckinridge, D-Ky.

Landrum is seeking tenure and $1,353,325 in damages in the suit.

Duck Favorite on Many Tables

By TOM HOGE
AP Newsfeatures Writer
For generations roast duck has been a favorite entree on American dinner tables, and today about five million of the birds are grown in this country each year, from the mallard to the Muscovy. Not to mention the thousands of canvasbacks and teal brought down by hunters each year.

The Chinese, who seem to have blazed the trail in so many culinary fields, were the first people known to have bred ducks for the table. By the first century of the Christian era, however, ducks had been domesticated in Europe.

The Romans fattened their ducks on figs and dates and served them perfumed with wine and truffles. In Europe, where they favor the bird rare, duck is still prized as one of the greatest of delicacies.

It is especially popular in France, which is famed for the ducklings raised in the Rouen area. The French baste their ducklings with orange juice, an admirable custom which I think is improved still more by lacing the sauce served on the bird with some orange-flavored cognac.

The Danes also have a way with duck and often stuff the bird with a dressing of apples and prunes that is delicious.

The duck is the most sought-after of all game birds in this country, and hunters tell tales of the canny ways of the elusive quarry.

Most American ducks are descended from the mallard or the Muscovy varieties. The mallard dwells in the northern hemisphere and the Muscovy comes from Latin America. The latter was introduced into Europe by the Spaniards after their conquest of Peru.

New York's Long Island is the home of the largest duck-raising industry in America. These white-feathered birds are said to have been descended from three ducks and a drake brought to America from China back in 1873.

Here is a recipe for duckling a l'orange with some orange-flavored cognac to dress it up.
1 duckling about 5 pounds
Salt and pepper to taste
1 pinch mace
2 oranges
1/2 cup consommé
2 ounces orange-flavored cognac
1 teaspoon cornstarch

Thin slices unpeeled orange
Sprinkle body cavity of duckling with salt and pepper. Truss bird and put on rack in shallow roasting pan. Peel and quarter oranges. Slice about 1 tablespoon orange peel, put in consommé with mace and pour over duck. Roast uncovered in 325-degree oven 3 hours basting occasionally with liquid in pan. When done, remove duck to a platter, removing all but 1/4 cup liquid. Add orange cognac to liquid. Blend cornstarch with little water and stir into sauce. Stir till thick and pour over duckling. Garnish with orange slices. Serves 4. Good with chilled rose wine.

Where the action is — kitchen family center encourages congeniality and communication

"Active families frequently get together only at mealtimes," observes architect Russell Childs. "That's why I design kitchens as family centers where people can spend more time together."

Mr. Childs is consultant to Whirlpool Corporation on kitchen recycling design and architecture, and he specializes in putting new life into old homes. He prefers the term recycling to remodeling because it means converting existing materials for new use, and that is exactly what happens in redesigning older homes.

DESIGNED FOR GETTING TOGETHER — This kitchen family center by architect Russell Childs, kitchen recycling consultant to Whirlpool Corporation, is designed to bring people together before, during and after meals. It incorporates modern appliances — refrigerator/top freezer, electric range and undercounter dishwasher — with an indoor fireplace/barbecue for year-round easy living and dining conviviality.

"Many old homes were designed and built for affluent families of an earlier day, and some contained servant quarters which the family never saw," he explains.

"The kitchen, of course, was the work center of these quarters and was never meant for family use. Today many people who have bought these charming older homes are trying to work in these kitchens on a day-to-day basis, and they don't operate effectively."

"The cook no longer has to feel like a servant, relegated to lonely work in an isolated area of the house while others are watching TV or enjoying themselves without her," he says.

"Family and friends can join in on the chopping, slicing, peeling, grating, stirring, mixing and other activities in an attractive setting designed to encourage communication."

His kitchens are designed with major appliances, counters and cabinets positioned for optimum efficiency of human energy and the conservation of electrical energy, as well as for congeniality and good company.

"Good floor planning includes adhering to the three-point working arrangement whenever possible, with an area for preparation and cleanup (sink, disposer, dishwasher) positioned between the cooking (range) and food storage (refrigerator) areas."

"However, this plan can be overruled if an individual's work habits make another plan more suitable. Each kitchen should be recycled with a particular family in mind for the hours spent there to be as comfortable and pleasant as possible," he asserts.

"The ideal 'work triangle' can and should be violated when there are good reasons," he explains. "For instance when the view from a window is so serene and beautiful that the woman of the house wanted the sink placed there so she may enjoy the landscape."

"In essence a new design should exemplify the kitchen as a family and friends gathering center, and an efficient working arrangement for the chief cook and bottle washer who doesn't want to be alone," he concludes.

Can't 'Replace' Child With New One

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1976 by Chicago Tribune N.Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I were so looking forward to having our first child. He was born a perfect little boy, but he died mysteriously when he was 16 days old. They said it was a "crib death."

We are heartbroken and want to have another as soon as possible. We hope it will be another boy, and if it is, we want to call him "Robert Roy II" because our first son was named Robert Roy.

Please tell us what you think of this idea.

STILL GRIEVING

DEAR STILL: I know how desperately you want to "replace" the child you recently lost in death, but please don't give him the same name. The new baby shouldn't be thought of as a "replacement." He is another child in his own right, and he should be treated as one.

DEAR ABBY: Last week I got the shock of my life. My husband of 24 years announced that he doesn't want to be married anymore.

He is 51 and I am 49. We built a wonderful business together, and we're still in it. We have children and grandchildren.

He insists there is no other woman, and I believe it because he is hardly man enough for me. (I never complained. Why start trouble?)

He says he wants his own apartment, but he doesn't want a divorce; he just wants to be "free." He says if we get a divorce, it will cost us a fortune dividing up the assets, so we should stay married, remain business partners, but live apart.

I am still in shock. I don't want to stay married to a man who doesn't want to live with me, but what have I to gain by that kind of arrangement? I'd be married in name only, but not really free to look around. Help me.

IN SHOCK IN ORLANDO

DEAR IN: Tell your husband that you don't want an "in-name-only" marriage. But go slowly. Before you throw 24 years of marriage away, both of you should decide whether it's what you really want to do.

Men also go through a kind of menopause in their middle years, which could account for your husband's sudden decision.

DEAR ABBY: Last week on the way home from work, my husband and I saw a little girl on the side of the road who had just been hit by a truck. That was bad enough, but when the ambulance arrived they found no identification on the girl, and no one knew who or where her parents were, so all they could do was take her to the hospital. At the hospital they couldn't do anything without parental consent because she was a minor.

If that child had been wearing an I.D. bracelet or necklace her parents could have been easily located and treatment could have been started sooner.

We make sure our pets have tags because they can't tell people where they live, but a child who is unconscious can't talk either. Please print this.

J.L.E.

DEAR J.L.E.: Pets are tagged because it's required by law, but you make a good point. An I.D. bracelet or necklace would make an ideal gift for a child's birthday or Christmas. And include the child's blood type. It could be a life-saver. Think about it.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.
